About the Service

The Westpac Rescue Helicopter Service (WRHS) is a registered Charity, providing the highest standard aeromedical response and search and rescue to the communities of Northern NSW.

The Service was established in 1975 and operates five (AW139) helicopters from three forward operating bases in Belmont, Tamworth, and Lismore. The service supports NSW Ambulance and NSW Health to deliver aeromedical pre-hospital support, search and rescue and inter-hospital transfers in our community from north of the Hawkesbury River through to the Queensland border and throughout the New England North West.

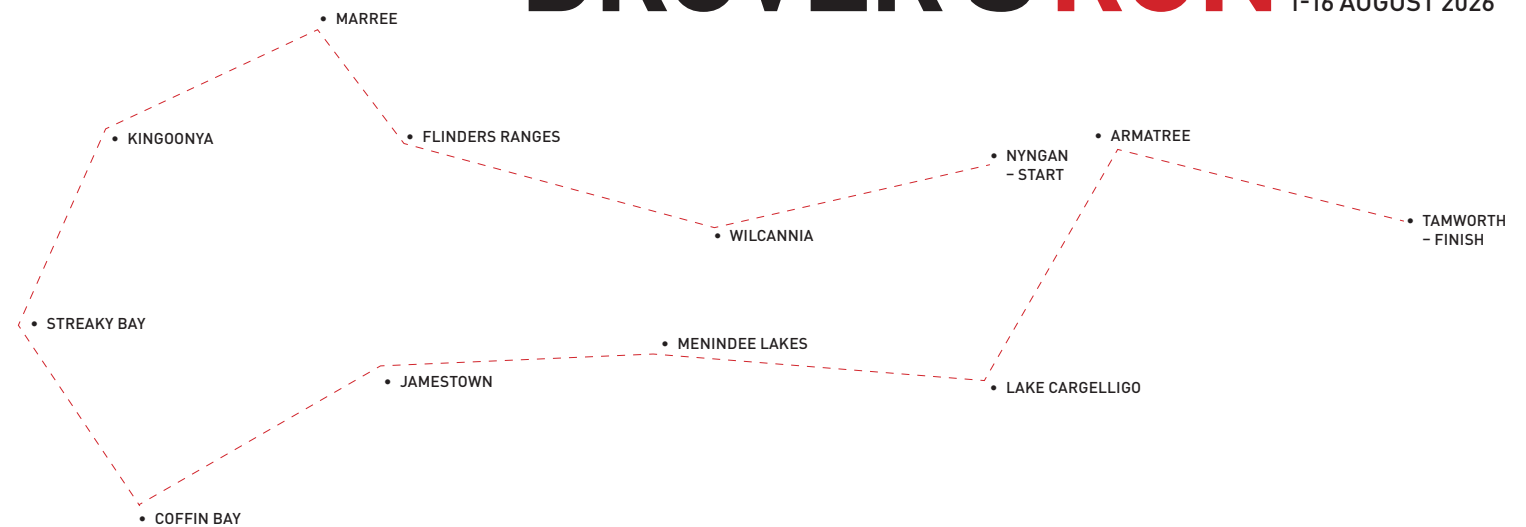

Along with the pilot and aircrew officer, every pre-hospital mission launches with a dedicated NSW Health critical care doctor and a NSW Ambulance critical care paramedic. For inter-hospital transfers the team may also be complemented by dedicated NSW Health specialist nursing professionals, depending on the needs of the patient.

The NSW Government, through the NSW Ministry of Health and NSW Ambulance, Westpac Bank, sponsors, business partners and the community, collectively provide the funds to ensure that the Westpac Rescue Helicopter Service can deliver world-class aeromedical emergency support services to the communities of Northern NSW.

The Service now responds to over 1,500 life-saving missions each year.
